He also, on be-half of the Second Baptist Church, extended to the new pastor the cordial welcome of the membership and gave him the right hand of fellowship. This he did in an appropriate and very feeling, but brief address. The welcome on behalf of the 13,000 Baptists of Richmond was extended by Dr. MacDanie! in a short and eloquent address, which was happily interspersed with wholesome good humor.

Welcome From Baptists. On behalf of the Baptists of Virginia, Dr. Pitt cordially welcomed Dr. Warren, and in so doing outlined briefly the great work the 1,000 Baptist Churches and the 500 and more Baptist ministers in Virginia are engaged in. To a share in this work and the responsibilities it carries he eloquently invited the new pastor.

Both of these letters expressed the regrets of the writers at their inability to attend the recognition services. The letter of Mr. Forsyth, written from the sick room, was a mest cordial welcome of the new pastor to the ranks of the Christian workers in this rity, and a fervent prayer for the prosperity of the Master's cause as committed to his hands.

Members of the committee are R. E. Blackwell, of Hollydale; R. C. Fuqua, of Prospect; W. Cawthorn, of Church Roads, and J. W. Cawthorn, of Appointation. H. L. Petty, of Union Level, State secretary of the association, also will act as secretary of the meeting.

National Officers Coming.

The convention will be opened at the Elks' Home to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, with an address of welcome by Mayor D. C. Richardson, which will o'clock, with an address of welcome by Mayor D. C. Richardson, which will be responded to by National Secretary A. C. Davis, of Texarkana, Tex. National President C. S. Barrett, of Union City, Ga., is expected to be present, and National Vice-President W. R. Callicotte, of Denver, has already registered at the Lexington. The public is expected to be present at the opening session, but all the others will be executive. Officers will be elected on the last day of the convention. The present State officers are: President, D. M. Gannaway, of Guinea Milis; Vice-President C. Gordon, of Union Level. Between 400 and 600 delegates are expected to attend the convention, which will make its headquarters at the Lexington. The association has been established in the State for only one year and has increased more than 50 per cent. up to this time, although as yet there are only twenty-one counties organized. In the United States the union claims 3,000,000 or more members.

One of the most important matters to be taken up by the convention will be that of making an aggressive campaign through all counties of the State. At least fifty new organizers will be placed in the field, and a strong effort will be made to effect organizations in every county by the next annual convention.

Some of Its Objects.

The union is for the most part a secret organization, with the primary view of improving the condition of the farmer. Some of its objects are to establish justice and secure equity; to discourage the credit and mortgage system; to assist its members in buying and selling; to educate the agricultural class in scientific farming; to eliminate gambling in farm products by boards of trade, cotton exchanges and speculators, and to secure and maintain profitable and uniform prices for grain, cotton, live stock and other for grain, cotton, live stock and other products of the farm. Merchants, law-yers, bankers and those belonging to trusts or combines for purposes of speculation in agricultural products are speculation in agricultural products are barred from the association. The own-ing of bank stock by a farmer does not bar him from the union if he de-rives the better part of his support from the farm.

The third lecture on health topics, under the auspices of the Federation of Mothers' Clubs, will be given by Dr. Allen W. Freemanat the John Marshall High School on Thursday night at $:15 o'clock. His subject will be "The Relation of Files, Mosquitoes and Other insects to the Public Health." These lectures are open to the public without charge, the object being to educate the people and to show them how they may protect themselves by how they may protect themselves by simple methods.

Then Relented.

Although Mayor Riddick, of Norfolk, ordered the curtain to be rung down at the matince Saturday afternoon on "The Easiest Way," he quickly relented, and the performance proceeded without further interruption. When the Mayor happened in he was shocked by something on the stage. The police censors who saw the production Friday night said the play was all right. The Norfolk newspapers the next morning said it was not. Then the Mayor looked in. Exactly how the performance was modified to suit his demands was not explained.

"Whether immoral or indecent," said the Norfolk Landmark yesterday, "the capacity audiences on Saturday afternoon and night proved that 'The Easlest Way' is what some of the people want. Not in a long time has there been such a rush for seats."
